

Permissions

Reprinting of any copyrighted illustrations and text (beyond the limits of fair use) requires written permission from the copyright holder. Permissions must be in order before your book can be typeset. With your final manuscript submission, include any necessary letters of permission to reproduce quotations, artwork, tables, maps etc.

Fair Use: There is no fixed rule about what constitutes fair use. Some of the factors to be considered are the proportion of the work that is used, the purpose of the use, the nature of the work used, and the economic impact of the use. Permission is always required to reproduce a complete unit, such as an entire poem, chapter, table, map, photograph, or illustration. Note that the rules of fair use regarding copyrighted poetry and song lyrics are especially strict—it is advisable to seek permission to reproduce quotations of any two or more lines.

A sample template request for permission follows.

*****

REQUEST FOR PERMISSION

To:
From:

I hereby request nonexclusive world rights in all languages and media to reprint the following material:

to be published by Yale Southeast Asia Studies. Credit will be given as you designate.

If you do not control the rights requested, please let me know to whom I should apply. Please use the release provided below, returning the original request form to me. A copy is enclosed for your files.

Sincerely,

Permission to quote or reproduce is granted as stated above.

The credit line should read:

Signed: _____ Date: _____

Address: